

French photographer wins European Publishers Award

Posted At : July 2, 2009 8:11 PM | Posted By : Rixon Reed

Related Categories: Awards, European Publishers Award

As reported by the British Journal of Photography, Klavdij Sluban, a French photographer, has been selected for the 2009 European Publisher's Award for Photography. The announcement was made earlier today at the Rencontres d'Arles.

The European Publishers Award for Photography is a major initiative to encourage the publication of contemporary photography. Open to photographers world-wide, the competition is a unique collaboration between six European Publishers – Actes Sud (France), Apeiron (Greece), Dewi Lewis Publishing (Great Britain), Edition Braus (Germany), Lunweg Editores (Spain) and Peliti Associati (Italy).

The Award guarantees that his project 'East to East' will now be published in book form.

Klavdij Sluban's website

The British Journal of Photography announcement

The 2008 Award information

The 2008 Winner: I, Tokyo by Jacob Aue Sobol \(Denmark\)